Car Parking changes

From Monday September 19 2011, the car park outside Olympia will close for work on new roads and utility diversions as part of the next phase of the Waterfront development.

An area of this car park to the north west will be retained until the closure of Olympia. Coach parking will be re-located to Earl Grey short term car park, as a result parking will be reduced from 95 spaces to 52 spaces.

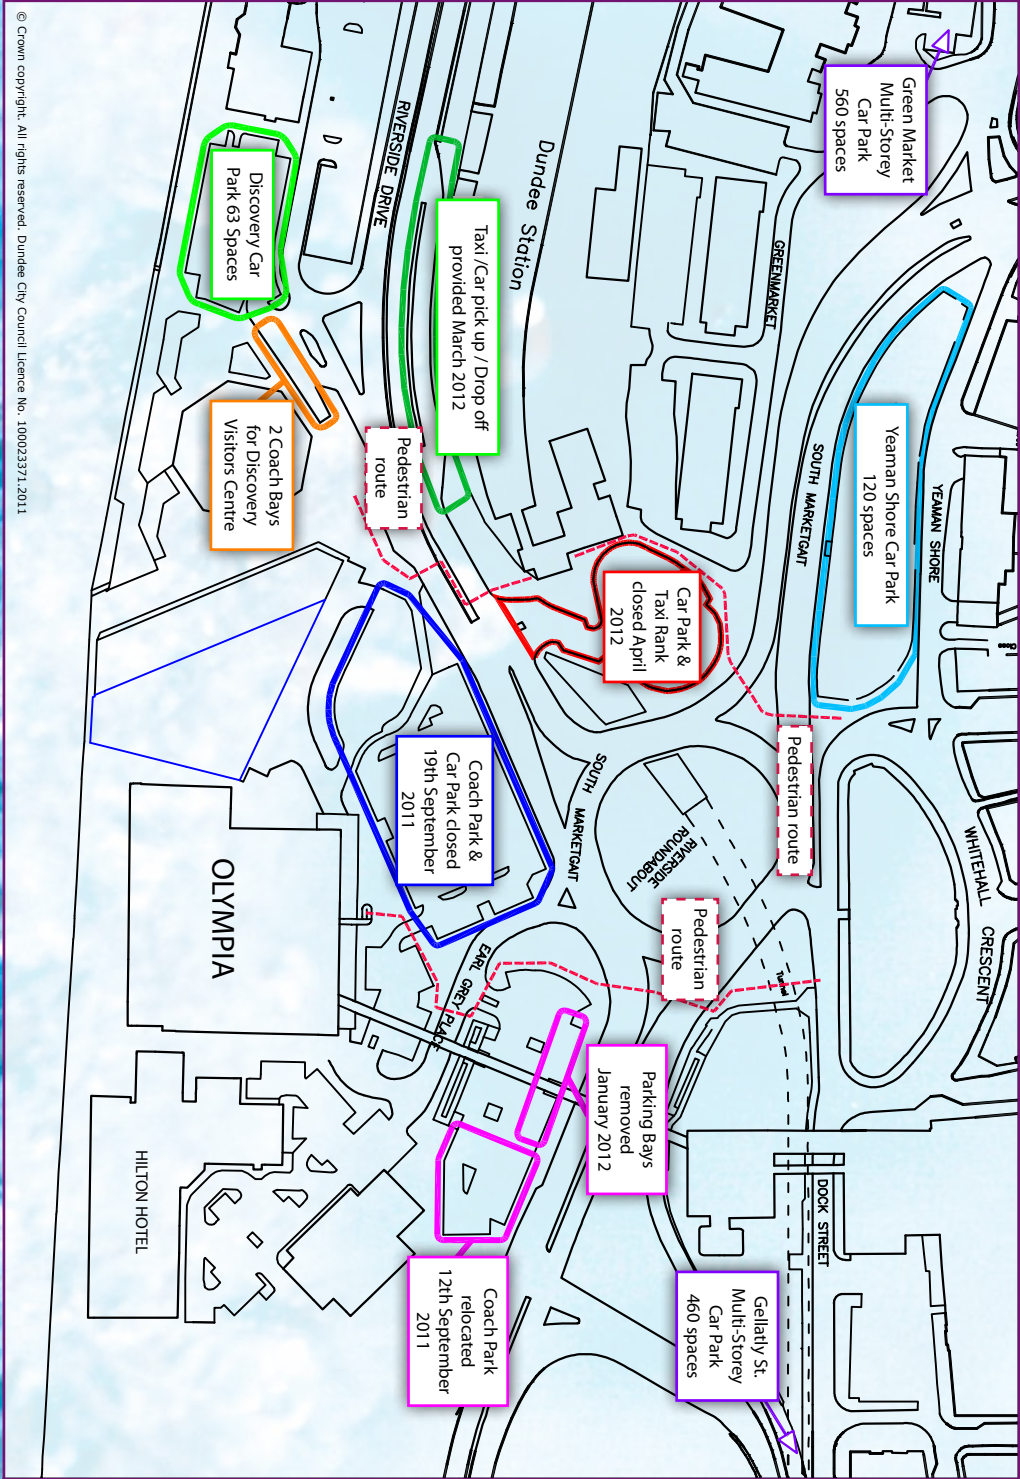

November 2011: The footbridge to Tayside House will be closed and removed in October/November. To accommodate these works, the Earl Grey short term car park will be closed for around two weeks. The stairs, ramp and bridge section from the car park will be retained until closure of Olympia.

January 2012: Permanent closure of 14 bays in the Earl Grey short term car park adjacent to South Marketgait, to accommodate road widening works, reducing the parking to 38 bays.

Pedestrian Access October/November 2011: Access to the east/west pedestrian crossing will be maintained (leading to and from the railway station). Additional access on foot will be provided via the completion of the pedestrian crossing at the bottom of Crichton Street directly across to Olympia prior to the closure of the Tayside House footbridge.

Alternative Car Parking: There will be alternative car parking available for Olympia users a short distance away.

The plan overleaf identifies potential suitable alternative car parks within a few minutes walking, including Yeaman Shore, Discovery Quay and slightly further away the multi-storey car park at the Green Market.
